

J. H. JOHNSON, SONG PUBLISHER, STATIONER & PRINTER,
No. 7 N. Tenth St., 3 doors above Market, Philadelphia, Pa.

COME WAKE UP, My Lady Love.

Come lend an ear, my lub, to me,
An listen to dis melody;
Hark unto de strains so fine,
As all de darkies in chorus jine.

Chorus.—Oh, come wake up, my lady-love,
Oh, come wake up, my lady-love,
Oh, come wake up, my lady-love,
And list to the banjo from above.

Come my lub, an go wid me,
I'll buy a farm in de counteree;
Den wid my banjo by my side,
You shall be my joy an pride.
Oh, come wake up, my lady-love, etc.

Den we will live like white folks fine,
I smoke de segar, you drink de wine,
You dance de Polka, while I sing,
And pick upon de banjo string.
Oh, come wake up, my lady-love, etc.

Den come my lub an go wid me,
And we'll lib in sweet felicity;
Den how happy we will be,
Wid our pickaninnies on our knee.
Oh, come wake up, my lady-love, etc.

J. H. JOHNSON
CARD AND JOB PRINTER

No. 7 NORTH TENTH STREET,

Three doors above Market,

PHILADELPHIA.

Cards, Circulars, Billheads, Hand-Bills, Labels, Ball, Raffle, Party
& Excursion Tickets, Programmes, Ladies' Invitations, Checks,
&c., neatly Printed, with accuracy and despatch, and 25 per cent. cheaper than any other Printer in the City.

